Boston Folding Container Corrosion-Resistant Type for Drone Stations

Overview

What is a drone box?

The box serves as a platform for the drone to take off and land. It is designed in such a way that it can charge the drone or automatically replace the battery. During the charging process or when the drone is not meant to be in the air, the box is a secure repository. Control software plans and controls flight applications and routes.

What is a charging box on a drone?

A drone that can be charged automatically, e.g. via charging contacts on the landing skids, a gear you attach to a normal drone or an automated battery replacement in the box. The box serves as a platform for the drone to take off and land. It is designed in such a way that it can charge the drone or automatically replace the battery.

Why should you use a drone in a box?

With special cameras on the drone, it is possible to recognise changes in the vegetation at an early stage. In the maintenance of factories or power plants, drones in a box are used to stream aerial views and data of the plants to the staff in real time. This can help detect, e.g. gas/water leaks or necessary maintenance work.
