Brazil's solar container communication station solar power generation has high cost performance

Overview

How has distributed solar generation capacity changed in Brazil?

Distributed solar generation capacity grew from less than 1 gigawatt (GW) in 2018 to 40 GW in 2025 through June, accounting for 43% of all electricity capacity additions over that period. In 2012, Brazil implemented net metering policies, which have recently contributed to large increases in distributed solar generation capacity.

How much solar power does Brazil have?

Over the past decade, Brazil's solar power generation has shown phenomenal growth. From only 8MW of installed capacity in 2013, it has reached 34.9GW by the end of 2023, and exceeded 40GW at the end of March this year.

Does Brazil have a centralized power station?

Today, Brazil's distributed installed capacity has surpassed centralized power stations, accounting for 71% of the total installed capacity. The adoption of the distributed generation method has led to the vigorous development of distributed photovoltaic projects in Brazil.

Does Brazil have a potential for photovoltaic energy?

During the era of isolated systems, some companies began to recognize Brazil's potential for photovoltaic generation. But it wasn't only the private sector that became interested in this source—the public sector also began seriously considering the possibility of expanding the electricity matrix with photovoltaic solar energy.
