

Copenhagen Station solar container energy storage system Project

Overview

What is Danish Center for energy storage?

Danish Center for Energy Storage, DaCES, is a partnership that covers the entire value chain from research and innovation to industry and export in the field of energy storage and conversion. The ambition of DaCES is to strengthen cooperation, sharing of knowledge and establishment of new partnerships between companies and universities.

When will Copenhagen Energy be commissioned?

With construction works scheduled to begin late this year, the facilities are expected to be commissioned in the first half of 2026. Copenhagen Energy has been developing the projects since the start of 2024.

What will Copenhagen energy do in 2024?

Copenhagen Energy has been developing the projects since the start of 2024. It will now proceed work with the procurement of long-lead components such as batteries, inverters, and transformers, after which it will choose engineering, procurement and construction (EPC) contractors and key suppliers.

How can Denmark develop a new energy technology?

If Denmark shall succeed in the development and implementation of new energy technologies such as energy storage and conversion, a broad knowledge of political and legal frameworks, economic models, the role of civil society as well as new forms of organization and collaboration across sectors and disciplines is necessary.
