

Norway s new solar container battery system

Overview

October 21, 2025 – Elinor Batteries has been awarded the contract to supply battery solutions for three large-scale battery parks in Southern Norway, boosting energy storage capacity, reducing grid costs, and supporting a faster transition to a low-emission society. Does Norway have a battery market?

Today Norway has not one, but two huge battery markets. “There are two market drivers for batteries: EVs and stationary energy storage. Energy storage is coming on strong now. It’s the key to turning intermittent wind and solar into a stable energy source,” explains Pål Runde, Head of Battery Norway.

Is Norway a good place to buy EV batteries?

An early adopter of electric transport, Norway continues to capture EV battery headlines. Electric cars now account for 79 per cent of new cars sold in Norway, and the MS Medstraum was recently launched as the world’s first electric fast ferry. In a global report on lithium-ion batteries, Norway ranked first in sustainability.

Is stationary energy storage a good idea in Norway?

Electric cars now account for 79 per cent of new cars sold in Norway, and the MS Medstraum was recently launched as the world’s first electric fast ferry. In a global report on lithium-ion batteries, Norway ranked first in sustainability. These are impressive records. Even so, stationary energy storage is beginning to steal the limelight.

Could Norway become the world's largest battery-powered container ship?

The ships, which will operate between Norway, Sweden and Germany, will have battery packs of more than 100 MWh. “They could thus become the world’s largest battery-powered container ships,” Enova added. The Port of Oslo is also receiving support for a charging facility for these ships at the container terminal on Sjursoya.
