Overview

What is an uninterruptible power supply (UPS)?

Uninterruptible Power Supply (UPS) | Schneider Electric Hong Kong, China. An Uninterruptible Power Supply system provides emergency power when the main source fails, using batteries to ensure a continuous supply. It conditions incoming power, protecting equipment from fluctuations. We offer various UPS power supply types for different needs.

What is a Mitsubishi Electric uninterruptible power supply (UPS) system?

Mitsubishi Electric uninterruptible power supply (UPS) systems provide daily power conditioning as well as backup power in the event of an outage to reduce damage to manufacturing equipment and maintain uptime for your production line.

Why do you need an uninterruptible power supply system?

Uninterruptible power supply systems can reduce downtime (and its cost) in manufacturing by providing reliable backup power in an emergency. A UPS allows your systems to shut down slowly, in alignment with standard procedures, as opposed to the rapid shutoff of an outage, which could damage the equipment.

Do you need a generator for a UPS system?

A UPS system also provides backup power to essential operational systems at your facility, including lighting and IT (protecting your data center and IoT) in an emergency. But if an outage is extended, and you're running a 24/7 production line, you may need to pair a generator to your uninterruptible power supply.
